ARBITRATOR MEDIATOR, ADR PROCESS FACILITATOR

During my career of representing clients in trials and arbitrations throughout the United States, I have handled matters involving large complex disputes dealing with alternative energy, oil and gas, environmental issues, professional liability (law firms, accounting firms, insurance and securities brokers), employment, corporate disputes, breach of contract, securities, product liability, personal injury, antitrust, maritime, construction, trademarks/copyrights, consumers and franchises. I was fortunate to become involved early on with ADR. I became a court appointed mediator and arbitrator in the 1980s and through the Connecticut and New York State and Federal Courts, several ADR institutions and privately have handled hundreds of mediations and arbitrations. I am available to consult with parties as to when and how they should use the various available ADR techniques. I frequently write, speak and teach on ADR subjects and I utilize Zoom or other virtual platforms when requested or needed.
